Why a Bequest?

As a contributor to Jewish causes, you already understand the need to support Jewish life in Denver. That need will only grow with time.

Your bequest will help perpetuate the vitality of the organizations you supported – and further Jewish life in Denver for years to come.

Tzedaka, charity, is one of the great Jewish commandments. Make a bequest and accrue merits from this mitzva even after your passing.

Why Denver Community Kollel?

For more than eight years, the Kollel has brought Torah and Judaism to thousands of Jews of all affiliations throughout Denver. By including the Denver Community Kollel in your will or estate plan, you will help ensure the future of our Denver Jewish community.

Your gift will:

- ◇ Help the Kollel remain a vital community organization in order that every Jew, no matter what affiliation or background, can learn more about his heritage through the study of Torah; and
- ◇ Enable the Kollel scholars to continue to devote themselves to intensive Torah study and teaching, preparing themselves for their roles as vibrant leaders of the Jewish community.

Legacy Options

Leaving a charitable gift to the Kollel is simple process. Options include a bequest in your will or trust, an outright gift, a life insurance policy, an IRA, or a charitable remainder trust.

The Legacy Society

The Denver Community Kollel Legacy Society is the Kollel's way of recognizing valued supporters who have documented inclusion of the Kollel in their will or estate plan.

Benefits include:

- ◇ Recognition at annual events
- ◇ Permanent plaque in the Kollel study hall
- ◇ Membership certificate for your home or office
- ◇ The satisfaction that comes with creating a meaningful legacy for future generations.
